REPORTS.

EDUCATION.—No. I.

The Board of Education reports to the Conference, that the Schools under its care, are in a healthful and fairly prosperous condition.

A larger number of the membership of the Church are in sympathy with advanced views of sound learning and Christian culture for our young people of both sexes. Some have long felt the imperative necessity of the highest possible Christian education to meet the requirements of the times in which we live. They have given freely of their means to make permanent, and secure the best equipment for, one institution of learning which will fully meet the demands of the work committed to our hands.

There is reason for profound gratitude to God that so wide and deep an interest in our educational work has been awakened in the Church. Those who do not study great moral and social problems, nor understand fully the conditions which environ us, nevertheless feel that greater efforts must be made to preserve and defend the truth as it is in Jesus.

Methodism, called of God to spread scriptural holiness over all lands, must preserve its spirit and doctrines intact. Our young men who seek to enter our ministry must be given every opportunity for complete preparation for their work. We must lay hold of all the children of the church and teach them. We cannot afford to allow our schools to fall behind any in the advantages of sound learning, infused with the spirit of our holy religion.

We rejoice in the measure of success given us in building up our chief educational centre

RANDOLPH MACON COLLEGE.

The President and Treasurer have been before us, and we learn from them that its progress is marked and advancing. At this time last year, there were 146 students, now there are 182, with the prospect of over 200 during the session. In 1887, there were 29 ministerial students, now 54 are preparing for the ministry. Thirty students are the sons of our ministers. The Baltimore Conference is united with us in the work of maintaining the College, and is participating in the benefits which it confers upon us. The church is receiving large returns from this institution. It pays us for educational collections fourfold in educating the sons of our ministers without cost of tuition. It also gives free tuition to all students for the ministry, and out of this fund is paying $500 to the chaplain, thus relieving the Mission Board of a large outlay.

More than $20,000 have been added to the resources of the college by the work of its indefatigable President. The endowment fund now reaches $110,000. It ought to be $250,000, and there is reason to believe that as our people appreciate more and more the pressing need of the church, their liberality will the more abound.

The College is maintaining itself, and is paying back to the Church a greater interest on its investment than any mathematics can calculate.

Its greatest immediate need is to enlarge its scientific departments. This will cost about $15,000, and the energy of President Smith will secure it without burdening the Church. Steps to secure the amount have already been taken.

We call attention to the fact that the College is making progress despite the competition of State institutions. The Methodist people will sustain their own Institution. Our poverty alone has hindered us from doing more. It is fitting that we should commend the generosity of those who have so nobly helped.

The reputation of the College is established. It is in no wise inferior to any College in the South. Its educational standard is high, but we are especially gratified that the President and Faculty give their personal attention to the religious training of the pupils. Their aim is to make the College pre eminently a school of Christian culture—a place where the spirit of religion shall permeate every department of learning. We heartily commend our College to all our people as a safe school in which their sons can obtain a liberal education in its highest meaning.

The Board has considered the report of the President of the Board of Ministerial Education referred to it, and advise its approval by the Conference. We recommend no special plan for raising the $1,500, necessary for the support of the ministerial students at College, and those who are now applying for admission. We are fully persuaded that the Church will respond cheerfully to the call of the officers of the Board, and that an appeal by the President or Secretary directly to our laymen in all the districts, will bring responses amply sufficient to supply the need. The Church cannot without shame and great loss allow those who under its promises are preparing for the ministry to suffer for the means to complete their course. The Board of Managers has ample power to put into operation any plan it may devise for securing annual contributions to this fund.

We find that the Board of Management with painstaking fidelity have discharged the difficult and delicate duties confided to them, and are entitled to our thanks for guarding sacredly this entrance to our ministry. They have carefully avoided spending the money of the Church upon unpromising and unworthy young men.

Our Female Colleges and Institutes are not neglected by the Church. We have within our Conference territory a large and increasing number of excellent schools of this class.

The Danville College for Young Ladies is an institution of high grade. Its principals and professors are competent instructors, its course of instruction thorough, and the attention paid to the religious training of its pupils is worthy of praise. It deserves to be liberally supported, and we are gratified at its increasing success.

The Wesleyan Female College at Murfreesboro is well officered, has ample facilities for thorough teaching, and is in all respects worthy of Methodist patronage.

The Suffolk Female Institute has an established reputation for sound teaching and religious influence.

The Bowling Green Female Seminary is a good school, of well earned reputation. It gives the pupils the benefit of the influences of a Christian home.

The Norfolk College for Young Ladies has been brought to our attention by its Principal, Professor Cassaday. It has enjoyed, as it has deserved, a large patronage. It is not a denominational school, but its Principal is a member of our Church, and it gives attention to the moral training of its pupils.

The Board recommends the appointment of Rev. W. F. Tillett, D. D., to Vanderbilt University, and Rev. E. H. Rowe as Associate Principal of Bowling Green Female Seminary.

EDUCATION.—No. 2.

The Board of Education has carefully considered the report of a Special Committee, of which Rev. A. G. Brown is Chairman, appointed at the last Conference to consider the feasibility of establishing one or more Conference Academies.

This report recommends the speedy establishment of one such school, and this Board is asked to name a committee to select a site for its location, and take charge of the preliminary work. We advise and recommend the adoption of the report, and respectfully suggest as the committee, Revs. Jno. E. Edwards, Paul Whitehead, D. D., W. W. Berry, Dr. J. J. Lafferty and President W. W. Smith, of Randolph Macon.

EDUCATION—No. 3—MINISTERIAL.

To become an efficient minister of the Gospel, requires a good measure of natural talent. But talent, however excellent, in order to a high degree of usefulness, must be cultivated and improved by the systematic training of education. To the preacher it belongs rightly to divide the word of truth; to declare doctrines, to solve doubts, to answer objections, to explain prophecies, and, in fine, to give to "every one his portion in due season." The Church to-day should give earnest heed to the strong and pointed admonition of the Apostle to Timothy, "The things that thou hast heard of me, among many witnesses, the same commit thou"—not only "to faithful men," but to those who shall be "able to teach others also." Great emphasis is given to this ability "to teach others," and hence the Apostle declares that a preacher of the Word should be "apt to teach," and also that he should be able "rightly to divide the word of truth." An uneducated, illiterate ministry, will not meet this demand. Men with limited education may, by a simple and earnest enunciation of the fundamental doctrines of the Gospel, do, and have done, good in turning sinners to righteousness, but these are not the men whom God ordinarily uses for accomplishing a work of extensive usefulness in the ministry. A wonderful energy, infusing itself into every department of human activity, is one of the distinguishing characteristics of the age in which we live. The progress of physical science, the freedom of the press, the facilities of commercial and social intercourse, the extension of education to all classes, and the wide circulation of information among the people, have all conspired to produce an enlargement and breadth of thought and purpose that is one of the distinguishing features of the present age.

If we would comprehend the situation, we must not forget that the ministry has to do its work amidst multitudes intensely absorbed with their surroundings and filled with magnificent secular enterprises. That minister can hardly be reckoned qualified for his station and work who is unable to arrest attention in the midst of absorbing secular interests, and command respect for the message he delivers. A minister to reach the highest efficiency under these conditions, must have a large furniture of mind and heart, and know how to use it well. It need hardly be repeated here that an educated ministry was never more imperatively demanded than now. Never was there greater need that he should be thoroughly familiar with the doctrines of the gospel; with their mutual relations, and with the best methods by which they are to be taught and defended.

A divine call to the office and work of the ministry does not necessarily imply a preparation for that work, but rather the duty of securing the educational qualifications; prerequisite to the discharge of its high and sacred functions. As a matter of fact, a large proportion of the young men who feel moved to take upon themselves this office, have previously enjoyed very limited educational advantages, and this divine call is by them rightly interpreted to be a call to prepare for the work. It is likewise a fact that many of these young men do not possess the means of securing this necessary educational preparation, and without pecuniary assistance must be lost to the itinerant ministry. The Conference at its last session sought to provide for this by the appointment of a Board of Education, charged with the duty of aiding in the education of deserving young men preparing for the itinerant ministry in the Virginia Conference to the extent of their need and the means at the disposal of the Board. The Board, fully appreciating the delicate and difficult work entrusted to it, adopted such rules and regulations as it thought best suited to the accomplishment of this object of the Conference. These rules are herewith submitted for examination, as also circular letters distributed by the Board. While the Board in its administration has been governed by a spirit of kindness and affection to all whose applications for aid have been considered, it has at the same time endeavored to guard the Church against any unwise expenditure of its means. Every system of benevolence has some friction, and while the Board has earnestly striven to execute the mind of the Conference, it does not claim perfection either in its plans or its administration. This enterprise is yet in its incipency, and the best plans for its government must be learned by the test of experience, and changed as necessity requires. The report of the Treasurer will show the details of the work that has been done in the disbursement of funds. The Board would respectfully suggest that if this movement is to be made permanent, some plan for raising the necessary fund more reliable than private solicitation should be adopted by the Conference.

J. POWELL GARLAND,
President Board Ministerial Education.

PUBLISHING INTERESTS.

Now that the debt of our Publishing House is practically a thing of the past, the time has come when the Church may reasonably hope to see that valuable institution fulfilling the purpose for which it was founded. In this day of intense mental activity, of cheap literature, and of untiring efforts for its diffusion, it behooves the Church to move rapidly if she would keep pace with the demands of her great and growing constituency. While we gladly recognize the great strides made in the department of periodical literature, especially that of the Sunday-school, yet we realize that in the matter of supplying our people with Christian books, "there remaineth very much land to be possessed." Three thousand traveling preachers available as helpers, ought, in a short time, to increase the sales of our House from the inconsiderable sum of $114,000 to more than a quarter of a million per year. Excellence in mechanical execution and cheapness of price though highly important—in fact indispensable—are not of themselves sufficient to insure adequate sales. Extensive, judicious and persistent advertising through the Church press and through circulars, with liberal inducements to agents, will be powerful factors of future success.

We learn with pleasure that the Hymn-Book Committee appointed by the General Conference in 1886, has at last completed its labors, and that "at no distant day" the new Hymn-Book—a crying want of the Church—will appear, and that the price will be in accordance with the demands of the Church.

The phenomenal success of Children's Day leads us to hope that our Publishing Agent will spare no pains nor expense to send out a varied and attractive programme of exercises for use in that connection. We hail with pleasure the appearance of the new catalogue of Sunday-school libraries prepared by the Rev. James A. Lyons; and we urge upon all our schools the use of our own standard libraries, to the exclusion of all trash sold under that name.

We note with gratification the improvement in the class of articles now published in the Southern Methodist Review, and we trust that with the resources now at his command the editor will be able to furnish the Church with a Review worthy of general support.

We rejoice to have as the general organ of our Church, a paper so varied in interest, so elevated in tone, and so thoroughly Methodist in character, as the Christian Advocate, published at Nashville, Tennessee. Its wide circulation augurs well for the Church, and we hope that some arrangement for clubbing with our Conference organs may be perfected so as to increase its already large circulation and widen the field of its usefulness. The growing hold taken by the Richmond Christian Advocate upon the affections of our people is matter of congratulation. Its distribution gives new vigor to every enterprise of our Conference, and binds our preachers and our people together in a brotherhood of intelligence and love. We request the Bishop to appoint as its editor Rev. J. J. Lafferty.

A general demand for the best literature for our Sunday-schools at the least paying price, the need of an issue of the Visitor, Little People and Lesson Papers for fifth Sundays, and the desirability of printing the music of the opening hymns, as well as occasional suitable selections, at the end of the Magazines and Quarterlies, are minor points of practical interest to which we respectfully call the attention of our alert and progressive Book Agent. The preparation and sale of a well chosen line of revival and other tracts is a point to which we desire to call especial attention.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. ROYALL, Chairman.

J. W. C. DAVIS, Secretary.

It will be seen that the income from subscriptions and donations is becoming smaller year by year. We cannot hope to collect a great deal more from old subscriptions, and if our capital is to be largely increased in the near future, some means, other than those now employed, will have to be devised. To be fully equipped for its work, the Society should have a fund of at least $100,000. This would give us an income sufficient to relieve the necessities, not only of those now dependent upon us, but also of a large class in active service who, by reason of old age or other infirmities, are unable to do effective work, but who nevertheless must continue to toil on, as best they may, because the Church has made no adequate provision for their support in case of their retirement.

While much good has been done, even with the limited means at its command—the sum of $5,725 having been distributed to beneficiaries since its organization—the Society is still very far from the full accomplishment of its grand mission.

May the great Head of the Church help us to understand our obligations to these His servants, and give us the wisdom and grace to meet them.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. VICAR,
Secretary and Treasurer.

REPORT OF AUDITING COMMITTEE.

CHURCH EXTENSION—No. 2.

Woman's Department.

The Second Annual Report of the Woman's Department of Church Extension of the Virginia Conference is now required by its organization and plan of operation.

The statistical report of the work throughout the Conference is hereto appended, which, through the medium of unerring figures, declares, in language both forcible and startling, the need of, it can be safely asserted, everything by which to inspire zeal for a cause which appeals not only to the sympathy of all, but to a stern sense of justice.

The promise having been obtained from the Bishop to present to the Conference the object and aim of this Society, its espousal before this august body having been pledged by a Presiding Elder of recognized ability, its support by a pastor whom all delight to honor being a foregone conclusion, he exercising already a parental oversight over this young child of the adoption of the Board of Church Extension, therefore, into such hands with safety can be committed this, as yet, feeble enterprise.

Words of weight from such sources by necessity command that attention which compels conviction, thus converting to the cause all who hear, these, in turn, inciting devout women to lend helping hands to provide homes for the ambassadors of their Lord and Master.

The selection of a Secretary who can command the time for a faithful discharge of the duties of this position is again urged by its present incumbent.

The amounts reported from each Society are as follows :

|---|---------|
| Granby-Street Church, Norfolk | $15 50 |
| Centenary Church, Richmond.. | 9 63 |
| Laurel-Street Church, Richmond..... | 17 42 |
| Court-Street Church, Lynchburg | 21 00 |
| Memorial Church, Lynchburg..... | 22 75 |
| Special donations from Memorial Church, Lynchburg | 10 65 |
| Total | $96 95 |

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. CAMILLUS CHRISTIAN,
Conference Secretary.

BIBLE CAUSE.

The Committee appointed to report on the Bible Cause beg leave to submit the following :

1. That the report of the Virginia Bible Society shows the past year, a gratifying increase in funds received and Bibles distributed in the State. Of these funds, the M. E. Church, South, in the Virginia Conference, contributed its full proportion.

2. That it is a gratifying fact that the demand for the Bible is still large and increasing. To meet this, the printing of the Scriptures is yearly increasing, until the amount of Bibles published is beyond anything ever known in the history of the world.

3. That we rejoice that the Protestant world is still united on the basis of the Bible, as it was when the Reformation was inaugurated.

4. That we recommend our ministers to present the claims of the Virginia Bible Society before their congregations, and to take up collections for the Cause, especially after the adoption of the plan of Colportage at this session of the Conference.

5. That we recommend all our ministers to take steps to place Bibles in all the families, and especially in the Sunday-schools of their charges.

6. That the month of April be appointed for taking collections for this object on the circuits ; and in the stations, the second Sunday in April.

D. A. WILLS,
RICHARD IRBY,
WM. MCGEE

TEMPERANCE.

Your Committee deem it unnecessary to enter into any portrayal of the immeasurable evils of intemperance. We rejoice to know that the public mind is being awakened to the magnitude of this curse, and that measures are being set on foot looking to its final extirpation.

Believing that the legislation of our church with reference to the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicants is fully sustained by the Word of God, and being earnestly desirous to do all in our power to promote the grand work of temperance reform, we offer for adoption by the Conference the following resolution:

Resolved, That we urge upon all our ministers the necessity of a judicious, impartial and faithful execution of our law on this subject.

W. P. WRIGHT, Chairman.

COLPORTAGE.

In behalf of the Board of Colportage of the Virginia Conference, we beg leave to report that colportage work has been carried on under our amended plan, during the past Conference year, in eight districts out of ten, by nine colporteurs, who travelled 8,000 miles and sold $1,623 worth of books in 592 days of service. These results are from ten to fifty per cent better than those of last year. There has been decided progress, although what has been done forms but a small part of what may and should be done.

Our humble efforts have, however, borne fruit in another and not unexpected direction. They have attracted the attention of the Church more particularly to the colportage and Bible work. The obvious and admitted shortcomings of the existing plan have aroused an interest in finding a remedy for them, and thus its very feebleness has, under the divine blessing, been made to contribute to the cause.

Two of our District Conferences have taken action in the matter—along the lines followed from the first by our hopes—namely, the creation of a Conference Agent, with this for his exclusive work.

The action of the Norfolk District Conference took the form of a finished plan which was presented to the Annual Conference on yesterday, and by it referred for consideration to this Board. It has been presented to us with full explanations. We are directed to return it to the Conference with our approval.

FRANCIS H SMITH,
President Board Colportage.

J. W. BRADBURY, Secretary.

Constitution of the Sunday-School and Colportage Board.

1st. There shall be a "Sunday-school and Colportage Board" of the Virginia Annual Conference M. E. Church, South, composed of one clerical member of the Conference and one layman from each Presiding Elder's District, elected by the Conference, on nomination of the Presiding Elders.

2d. This Board shall elect their own officers and make regulations for their own government, and shall have authority to declare and fill vacancies in their body: provided, they do so by keeping up an equal number of clerical and lay members.

3d. The object of this Board shall be to disseminate the Word of God, to put the literature of our Church in the hands and homes of our people, to distribute tracts, to obtain subscribers to the Richmond Christian Advocate and other periodicals of our Church, and generally to co-operate with the work of our Board of Missions and Board of Church Extension. They shall perform all the duties of the Sunday-school Board required to be organized in each Annual Conference by Discipline, p. 6, Ans. 5.

4th. The Board shall request the Bishop presiding at the Annual Conference to appoint a General Agent, who shall have charge of the work of this Board and make a report of his labors at its annual meetings, a copy of which shall be submitted to the Conference for information, and published in the Minutes. The salary of the General Agent shall be fixed by the Board, and it shall be his duty to employ colporteurs in the several districts, purchase Bibles, books and tracts, prepare programmes for "Children's Day," aid in establishing and supplying Sunday-schools, visit our churches and District Conferences in the interest of the Board, and by every means in his power extend the work of the Board, and increase the love and liberality of our people in behalf of this important work.

5th. There shall be in each Presiding Elder's District a Committee on Colportage, composed of the Presiding Elder and one minister and one layman, who shall advise and co-operate with the General Agent in the employment of colporteurs and in the prosecution of the work. This committee shall be elected by the Conference on the nomination of the Presiding Elder.

6th. The General Agent shall supply the District Colporteurs with Bibles, books and tracts, for sale and donation, taking their receipt for the same; he shall settle with them monthly, and shall require from each a monthly statement of his account of sales and donations, and a monthly report of his work, prepared according to blanks, which the General Agent shall furnish for that purpose.

7th. The Treasurer of the Board shall receive the collections made on "Children's Day," keeping a separate account of the same; also collections and donations for Colportage, with all money realized from sales; he shall deposit the same in bank to his credit as Treasurer of the Board; he shall disburse the same by check, on the order of the General Agent, and he shall prepare for the annual meetings of the Board a statement of his account, with vouchers for the same.

8th. The President of the Board, on application of the General Agent, or of three members, shall call a meeting thereof at any time in the Conference year; and the Board shall have full power to review the work of the General Agent, to fill his office if made vacant, to examine the books of the Treasurer, and to take action generally, ad interim; and they shall elect annually an Advisory Committee, consisting of three laymen residing at the place at which the depository is located.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.

Your Committee on District Conference Records beg leave to submit the following report:

The Records of all the Districts except the Randolph Macon and Danville were before us.

The Minutes of the Richmond District Conference are a model for imitation by all Church Secretaries; no errors being discovered.

The Records of the Charlottesville and Petersburg District Conferences are perfectly kept in every respect.

Lynchburg District Conference: The Secretary merely states that the various Pastors made reports of their charges, but gives no items whatever. At the end of the proceedings he makes general reports—intended to cover the points given in statements made by the Pastors. This record is also very neatly kept.

Farmville District Conference: Of 19 Circuits, there is a detailed report from only one charge—Farmville Station, and this is very meagre. In all the other cases, the Secretary merely mentions the fact that the various charges named, did make report, nothing more. On page 186, an inaccuracy occurs in that a Resolution offered by Rev. J. C. Watson is postponed for hearing to afternoon session, when an amendment is made by Rev. J. A. Duncan. Other Resolutions intervening, it is said on page 189, that all the foregoing Resolutions passed, but he fails to say what became of the amendment. On pages 191 and 192, the names of four candidates receiving highest number of votes should be given, and not the entire scale of the ballot. We also find too many erasures, and too many interlineations, giving the Records an appearance of being inaccurately kept.

Murfreesboro District Conference: Records correctly kept, and present a very handsome appearance.

Norfolk District Conference: This Record is admirably kept, and does credit to the Secretary.

Eastern Shore District Conference: The Record is well kept. We make this note, however: No part of the Pastors' Reports are given. We think it would be better to give each Pastor's Report, in brief. We note further, that the Record speaks of the Conference as "the House." We think it more Methodist to say the Conference.

Very Respectfully,

RO. E. RICHARDSON, Chairman.

CONFERENCE ENTERTAINMENT.

Your Committee have considered the Resolutions referred to them, in reference to meeting the expenses of future sessions of the Conference, and beg leave to report the following:

1. The Joint Board of Finance shall appoint annually a committee consisting of two preachers and three laymen, to be called the Committee of Conference Sessions. It shall be the duty of the Committee, in connection with the Joint Board, to select a place for the seat of the Conference, to secure railroad and hotel rates, and disburse all funds raised for Conference expenses.

2. The preachers of the Conference shall give to each charge the opportunity to contribute to the fund for entertainment of the Conference.

3. The sum of $2,000 shall be assessed by the Joint Board as other collections ordered by the Conference are assessed.

4. The Committee on Conference Sessions shall, as soon as practicable after selecting the place at which the Conference shall be held, make such arrangements with the local committee of such place, as they may deem advisable and if in any year the amount collected shall be in excess of the amount required for the entertainment of the Conference, the Board shall keep such fund separate to help meet the expenses of the ensuing year.

(Signed),

W. W. BERRY,

T. McN. SIMPSON,

J. J. LAFFERTY,

JOHN P. PETTYJOHN,

GEO. C. VANDERSLICE,

A. C. BLEDSOE.

PAINE AND LANE INSTITUTES.

The Committee on Paine and Lane Institutes beg leave to submit for the adoption of the Conference the following Resolutions unanimously adopted by the Committee, viz:

1. We have heard with satisfaction the report of the condition of the Institutes, also the address of Dr. Lee; and we hereby declare our abiding interest in and sympathy with the ministerial educational work among the negro population of the South.

2. We will consider during the year the propriety of this Conference, at its next session, memorializing the General Conference to commit the care of such educational work, as is done at Paine and Lane Institutes, for its support to the Board of Missions.

3. We will now proceed to take a collection, in cash, and subscriptions, personal and pledged, to raise the sum of four hundred dollars, apportioned us to meet the current expenses for this year of the Institutes.

Respectfully,

W. V. TUDOR,

Chairman of Committee.

2nd. That our Sunday schools be organized into Missionary Societies wherever practicable.

3rd. That our preachers be requested to circulate the Missionary Reporter and the leaflets provided by the General Secretary as extensively as possible among our people.

The above statement will give a bird's-eye view of the work done in the Domestic Mission field of the Virginia Conference this year. For the success thus obtained the Board is grateful to the Lord of Missions. Two of these Missions will take position on the regular roll of Circuits, and others are going forward in the same direction. Only one shows a decrease in membership; in another where the whole population is very small, the roll is stationary. The total number of conversions 320, and accessions to Church, 255.

It is a source of profound regret that while the Missions in the Eastern part of the Conference show gratifying (and in some cases remarkable) results, those in the mountainous and Western bounds show comparatively little though they have shared the attention of the Board for many years. This is not due to the unfaithfulness of the workers in the field but to the peculiar difficulties existing in these fields. The people are generally very poor in means, and there is a spirit of opposition to evangelical work, which seems to resist all the efforts to reach the people. Still there is on the whole some improvement. In these regions distilleries outnumber churches three to one.

Memoirs.Rev. WILLIAM B. ROWZIE.

BY JOHN E. EDWARDS.

Rev. WM. B. ROWZIE was born in Essex County, Va., February 22d, 1806, and died in the adjoining county of Middlesex, and only a short distance from the place of his birth, June 3d, 1888. He was of French descent on his father's side of the family. His mother was English. Both branches of the family settled, in colonial times, in Essex county, Va., where the subject of this memoir was born and reared. He was the oldest of nine children, and shared with the other members of his family in the industrial activities, common to country farm life, in the days of his youth. His early education was limited to the elementary studies commonly taught in the schools of his county. Country life and manual labor contributed to the development of a robust body and a vigorous constitution. He grew up to early manhood mainly under the religious teachings of the ministry and Sunday-school of the Protestant Episcopal Church. When about twenty years of age he was converted under the preaching of the Methodist ministers who, in 1826, were traveling the Hanover circuit. He very soon began to hold prayer meetings, as his history goes, and to exhort the people to repent and flee to Christ for salvation. His mind was turned to the work of the ministry, and, without holding a parley with "flesh and blood," in February, 1829, he offered himself for admittance on trial in the Virginia Conference. He with fifteen others was received, and commenced his itinerant life on the Gloucester Circuit. It would serve no valuable purpose to follow the subject of this memoir through the successive changes from circuit to station ; from circuit and station to the Presiding Eldership, alternating at longer or shorter intervals with college agencies, and such other side-work as may have been assigned to him by the authorities of his church. He was an obedient son in the gospel. For the space of at least fifteen years he filled the office of Presiding Elder, and for fourteen years, at least, he acted as agent for Randolph-Macon College, Buckingham Female Collegiate Institute, and the Wesleyan Female College, located at Murfreesboro, N. C. In whatever position he was placed, either as Pastor, Presiding Elder, or College Agent, he devoted himself to his work with an energy that never tired, a zeal that never abated, and with a measure of success that is rarely excelled.

He was a model man. In moral principle he was as firm as granite ; in Christian character he was as clear as crystal and as pure as gold ; and, taken altogether, he presented as complete and rounded an embodiment of all that is graceful in humanity, and beautiful in "pure and undefiled religion," as is ever met with, one time in a thousand, among the most conspicuous examples that have ever adorned the walks of social and domestic life, or shed an undimmed lustre on the annals of the Christian Church.

William B. Rowzie was almost peerless as a man, considered apart from his ministerial vocation. As a preacher he was eminently useful. Not brilliant in intellectual endowments, nor specially captivating as a public speaker, and yet there was a clearness in the presentation of his subject, and an earnestness in delivery that made ample amends for any deficiency in the merely rhetorical adornments of his style, or the absence of oratorical display in his manner and mode of delivery. He was plain, artless and eminently sincere in his pulpit ministrations. No preacher amongst us ever had a clearer perception of the sinner's relation to God and His holy law, nor a clearer conception of the great doctrine of justification by faith, than he ; and perhaps no preacher connected with the Virginia Conference ever preached this doctrine with more demonstrative effects and immediate results than he. The instances are not few in which conversions, clear and scriptural, occurred while he was preaching this doctrine. He was wonderfully successful as a preacher, in leading sinners to Christ.

The subject of this memoir was the staunch and unwavering friend and patron of Christian education. For many years he was a Trustee of Randolph-Macon College, and no one, in that relation to the College, ever displayed more untiring devotion to the interests of the institution than he. With a punctuality that was surprising he attended the meetings of the Board, and, not only by his personal presence, but also by his means, to the full extent of his ability and even beyond, he contributed to its relief in the darkest days of its history. Many years of the prime of his life were devoted to the agency for this College. Nor was he less the friend and patron of female education, as is illustrated by the fact that he spent several years in his efforts to resuscitate the fortunes of the Buckingham Female Institute, and to sustain and keep alive the Wesleyan Female College at Murfreesboro. The later years of his long and useful life were devoted to circuit work. With advancing years, and the infirmities incident to age he felt compelled to retire from the active pastorate, and at the end of the 54th year of his effective relation to the Conference, he, at the session for 1884, was retired, at his own request, to the superannuated relation, after which time he spent the declining years of his life with his friends, preaching occasionally as his strength and opportunity allowed. At the time of his death he was on a visit to his friends and relations in the county of his nativity. He had preached but a short time before his death with great clearness and effectiveness. He was suddenly prostrated with an acute attack of disease at the house of a relative, in Middlesex county, only a few miles from the home of his childhood, and died as he had lived, one of the best and purest of Christians—a preacher of high order and efficiency; a man of irreproachable character; and one, in every respect, entitled to the highest consideration. His memory is cherished by his brethren in the ministry, and his praise is in all our churches. His remains were interred in the old family burying-ground, near his birth-place, where two or three generations of his kindred sleep the long sleep that knows no waking till the trump of the resurrection shall sound the knell of time.

Rev. SAMUEL T. MOORMAN.

BY PAUL WHITEHEAD.

REV. SAMUEL TUCKER MOORMAN, at the time of his death, was the oldest itinerant minister in unbroken connection with our Conference.

He was born April 15, 1803, in the county of Campbell, Virginia, and died at the house of his brother-in-law, Col. Joel B. Leftwich, not far from the place of his birth, on Sunday, December 18, 1887.

He was descended from Quaker stock, settled originally not remote from the old Quaker meeting-house near Lynchburg. His parents, Samuel and Judith T. Moorman, were Methodists, and in addition to home training gave their son the advantage of a plain English education. He was awakened and converted at a camp-meeting held at Limestone Springs, Bedford circuit, in August, 1822. The next month he joined the Methodists. The Holy Spirit moving him to give himself to the ministry, he was licensed to exhort in 1824, and in November, 1827, to preach, and recommended for admission into the itinerancy. He was received into the Virginia Conference on trial, at the session held at Raleigh, N. C., February 27, 1828, being one of a class of 23, among whom were Stephen W. Jones and Vernon Eskridge (victims of the Yellow Fever pestilence of 1855), John W. White, Martin P. Parks, Leroy M. Lee, Thales McDonald, Jesse K. Powers, George Mahood and Abram Penn.

His first appointment was Brunswick Circuit, as junior, with John W. Childs in charge. He was ordained in due course deacon by Bishop Soule and elder by Bishop Hedding, and for eighteen years traveled from mountain to seashore (being once in N. C. at Washington) with the usual regularity, and the usual fruits of a Methodist itinerant. Somehow, he was a favorite in Charlotte, serving that circuit twice, each time for the full term of two years. During this time he married.

At Conference of 1846, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, having been organized and held its first General Conference, he was appointed Presiding Elder of Charlottesville district, the territory of which lay along the border of the Baltimore Conference. That venerable and powerful body had refused to adhere South, and a border ecclesiastical warfare of no little bitterness between it and Virginia had sprung up.

Bro. Moorman was doubtless selected for the emergency of that day as a man of unruffled serenity, deep piety, sound doctrine and discretion, and suavity mingled with firmness. He held the place for a quadrenium and maintained the standard of a pure and blameless godliness and of the Southern Church against all assailants. He expressed to this writer in the last year of his life, with much solemnity and clearness, his opinion of the great importance of the office of Presiding Elder.

After an appointment near Richmond, where his home had become fixed in consequence of severe family afflictions, he served for several years our colored congregations in Petersburg and Richmond. His last years of active ministry were thus employed in preaching to these simple-hearted, sympathetic and emotional people. He understood them well, being brought up on a plantation and himself the owner of slaves, a master kind, generous and just. He was able affectionately and patiently to guide them, but was not boisterous enough to be with them a favorite preacher.

But when not much past fifty years of age, his hearing, long defective, became greatly impaired; and his domestic sorrows and disabilities became well-nigh overwhelming. He was compelled to take a supernumerary relation which he held eleven years.

He continued to reside in Richmond, doing what he might, by preaching as opportunity afforded and by personal visitations to the prisoners and the afflicted in the penitentiary, the alms-house and other abodes of spiritual darkness and distress. Part of the time, he labored to extend the circulation of the Richmond Christian Advocate and other religious literature.

At the close of the war, the exciting and sorrowful years of which passed over him in the very centre of its interest—Richmond, the capital of the Confederacy—his private means having been greatly reduced, he was placed on the superannuated list and annually received a small allowance from the Joint Board of Finance. About 1880 or 1881, his wife having died, and the infirmities of age greatly increasing, he removed to his native county of Campbell, and with his afflicted daughter, made his home at his brother-in-law's, where to the end he received the most affectionate care and attention.

Up to the last year, he had a few regular appointments, and preached as strength and weather allowed, but these services became less frequent, and within a year past it was apparent that "the weary wheels of life" were coming to a stand still. Death came, as he had often expressed a desire it should—suddenly, when he was alone and out of doors. As well as could be judged, the Lord removed his servant without pain, probably “without a lingering groan.” It was on the Sabbath-day which he had always specially loved and held in highest reverence, observing its sanctity with particular and unvarying faithfulness. Thus, he “fell asleep” on the morning of the Lord’s Day, needing to give no dying testimony to that religion of which his long life was a perpetual example. He had nearly completed his 85th year; was in the 60th of his itinerant ministry, of which 32 years were in the relation of a retired minister. In consequence of this fact and his unfrequent appearances at Conference (the last was at Lynchburg in 1884) he was not known by sight to the bulk of our younger men. There was an expression of constant and habitual sweetness upon his countenance. His voice was soft, his manner gentle; the tone of a St. John was about him. As a preacher he was affectionate, fervent, clear, spiritual. When in charge he was a firm and close disciplinarian. He was a constant reader, and had paid special attention to some particular features of doctrine, which he was especially fond of discussing.

He was a holy man in all private and public life, “walking in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost,” full of faith and love, unwearied and continual in “prayers, intercessions and giving of thanks,” an example to all believers.

His body sleeps among kindred dust, not far from White’s Church in Campbell circuit; and at the same spot his only surviving brother, John Clarke Moorman, a venerable saint of more than ninety years, has this year been laid to rest.
